7 BUNNY RABBIT FACTS

Fuzzy, Social and Cute, Rabbits are one of the most loved mammals on the planet.

SPECIES

Bunny is another name for Rabbit.
There are over 50 species of rabbit.
Mini and Dwarf species are small while Giant species are large

SIZE

The size of a bunny depends on the species.
Dwarf Rabbits are 7-9 inches long and weigh 2-4 pounds. Giant Rabbits up to 20 inches long and weight up to 15 pounds

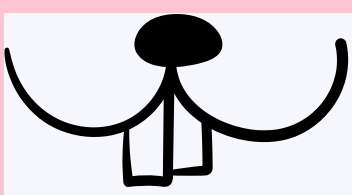
HOME LIFE

Rabbits are social animals and live in groups called colonies.

Rabbits live in an underground hole called a burrow

HABITAT

Rabbits live in a variety of habitats.
They live in open spaces, fields, prairies, deserts, swamps, forests, marshes, mountainous areas, grasslands, woodlands and even in your backyard.

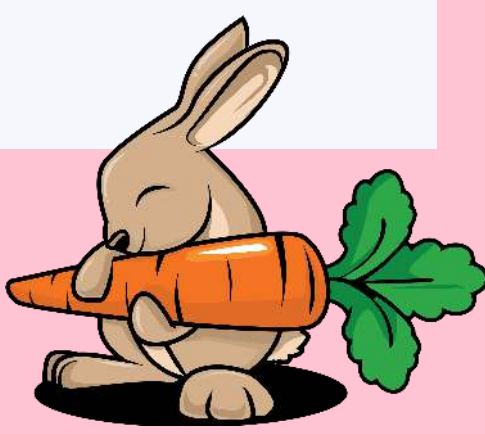


TEETH

Rabbits have 28 teeth.
Rabbit's teeth never stop growing.
Rabbits chew on twigs and branches to file down their teeth

CREPUSCULAR

Rabbits are crepuscular meaning they are most active at dawn and dusk. Rabbits sleep about 8 hours a day.

DIET


Rabbits are herbivores.
They eat farmers crops, clovers, grasses, wildflowers.
They also eat their own poop.